

BI-LINGUAL WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

Letting parents know what their children are learning and the activities they are participating in each week is essential. Many parents are excited to know what their little ones are up to and this newsletter can be a helpful way to share this information. The newsletter features “This Week’s Highlights”, “Upcoming Events”, and “This Weeks Activities.” “This Week’s Highlights” should include any information that you want to share for the week such as a fundraiser or even a scheduled field trip reminder. The “Upcoming Events” section should list events that are planned such as Spirit Week or the scheduled Back to School night. Lastly, “This Week’s Activities” shares what students will be learning in each subject. To make the newsletter most effective it should be distributed at the end of each week.

Teachers Should Consider:

- How will newsletter be distributed; printed and sent home in folders, e-mailed and/or on a classroom website.
- Will you be able to translate the newsletter yourself or should you look for other resources such as parents, staff or other teachers.
- Adding photos, star spellers of the week or star student could intrigue parents to read more of the content

For School Leaders:

- Supply teachers with upcoming school wide events
 - Allow time during planning for teachers to create the newsletter
 - Continuously foster the importance of home and school communication throughout the year
